FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: SEPTEMBER 12, 2013

PHILADELPHIA, PA — Attention Journalists and News Crews: Did your daily horoscope predict that tomorrow you would attend the most entertaining event of the year? Did your horoscope also tell you that on Friday the 13th you would have a great time interviewing people, taking pictures and filming interesting partygoers and settings? Did your horoscope advise you to cover an event that would add a human interest element to the mundane and depressing daily news coverage?

No?!?!

Well, it should have!

Please plan to cover tomorrow's, September 13th, Friggatriskaidekaphobia Treatment Center's

Anti-Superstition Party

at the

Embassy Suites Hotel
9000 Bartram Avenue
Philadelphia

7:00 PM

The Friggatriskaidekaphobia doctors and nurses challenge journalists and news crews to walk under a ladder, break a mirror, "Level a Leprechaun," "Fracture a Fairy," trash your horoscope, and dance with open umbrellas (inside).

The Friggatriskaidekaphobia Treatment Center spells Asstrologer with two "ss". We hope you will appreciate our sense of humor and accept our challenge to participate in this celebration of overcoming Friggatriskaidekaphobia (fear of Friday the 13th).
